Dear Mr. Covington:

It may seem rather hard to believe but I am actually writing to confirm our findings after testing your product and several others.

We determined your product did not adversely affect the rubber compounds used in our bias mileage tires in which your material would come in contact with. We would not restrict a customer from using your product provided they would bear the cost of removal upon the removal from service.

We do not endorse your product or any other used in our test. We do not agree to be used in any advertising or promotional material connected with any of the products tested.

I appreciate your patience and cooperation during our test period.

Very truly yours,

K. S. Webb
